

Reframe over 48 Hours

Reframe is an interactive learning experience designed to help Christians who've come to faith in traditional or established churches to examine afresh Jesus' call to mission through the local church.

Reframe is run over two days. It can be run in a number of settings: congregational leaders, church council, mission team, leaders of mission initiative leaders.

Reframe can be run for one congregation or for a cluster of leaders.

Take a weekend to explore with your team what it means to be the Church in mission in the local community.

Reframe is one of the strategies being used by the Vision For Mission Advocate to facilitate, resource, nurture and energise congregations as they explore, identify, develop, implement and review new missional initiatives.

Reframe has been grown as one of the resources of Seeds of Hope, a missional church training network developed by the Uniting Church in Australia, Queensland Synod.

Other resources include email lists, intercessory prayer networks, training for churches planting churches, help with selection of church planting teams, coaching for leaders and their teams, and development of leadership for future mission.

Reframe is an interactive learning experience designed to help Christians who've come to faith in traditional or established churches to examine afresh Jesus' call to mission through the local church.

Reframe is an adaptation of d:frag by Hugh Halter & Mike Kopp of CRM USA, and extensively reformatted by Ken Morgan of CRM Australia & Mike Brantley of CRM New Zealand. This material has been developed again for the Uniting Church in Australia Queensland context by Duncan Macleod and Bruce Moore.

Reframe has been run in Queensland since 2003:

December 2003: Alford Lodge - for leaders of new church plants.

June 2004: Robina - for teams from Tallebudgera, Bray Park, Pacific Parks, Toombul District

October 2005, Margate - for teams from TEA Party, Wolston, and Vineyard Moorooka.
